We believe Corporate Social Responsibility is a crucial incentive needed to complete so many public art projects all around Namibia. As a Non-Profit Organization, the ENK Institute for Public Art firmly assures all interested stakeholders that your investment will produce public art structures & displays that will tell modern Namibian stories, through artistic creations – never seen before in Namibia.

Our projects will attract so many forms of industry – and your company will be attached to that attraction, forever.

Our social media projections, the media coverage; the very fact that it will be a physical structure or display that will be seen by all in the public arena - adored by the public itself - is an idea worth capitalising on.

Interested? Contact us directly and we can discuss the particulars.

Give your company the advantage when it comes to public image by using public art, produced by the ENK Institute for Public Art.
